

Tuggle Named To Head Diversity Programs At LM Aero - Marietta

PRNewswire
MARIETTA, Ga.

Dorie C. Tuggle has been named Senior Manager, Diversity and Equal Employment Opportunity Programs for Lockheed Martin Aeronautics Company's operations in Marietta. In this role, she is responsible for effective implementation of diversity initiatives, EEO programs, and urban and community affairs.

Ms. Tuggle joined Lockheed Martin in 1989 as manager of Equal Opportunity Programs following a 20-year career in marketing and human resource management with IBM. She left the company in 1996 and has worked as an independent management consultant for the past four years.

She attended the University of Michigan and has completed executive management studies at UCLA and Emory University. She is active in civic and community affairs, and is a member and former vice chairperson of the Civil Service Board of Cobb County.
