Lockheed Martin recently awarded its Maritime Systems & Sensors (MS2) Premier Circle Honors designation to Tampa, FL, resident Jack Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, who works at Lockheed Martin's facility in Clearwater, FL, was recognized for consistent, selfless leadership of a team responsible for production and delivery of advanced processing equipment used by the U.S. Navy on ships, submarines, aircraft and ground mobile units.

The Premier Circle Honors program recognizes employees whose contributions to the business set an example of excellence. This year, 85 of MS2's 12,000 employees were selected for the award.

"Jack's accomplishments convey the effort to change and improve our business to best serve our customers," said Fred Moosally, MS2 president. "He stands as a role model for MS2, and is recognized by all employees as deserving of this significant award."

Headquartered in Bethesda, MD, Lockheed Martin employs about 130,000 people worldwide and is principally engaged in the research, design, development, manufacture and integration of advanced technology systems, products and services.
