To the extent the aggregate principal amount of old notes tendered exceeds this increased cap, Lockheed Martin will accept old notes for exchange based on the priority levels set forth above and in the manner described in the Offering Memorandum dated July 31, 2006.

The total exchange price to be received by tendering holders of each series of the old notes will be calculated as of 2:00 p.m., New York City time, on August 23, 2006, as described in the Offering Memorandum dated July 31, 2006 and related letter of transmittal, unless the exchange offer is extended.

The exchange offer is only made, and copies of the offering documents will only be made available, (1) to holders of the old notes who have certified certain matters to Lockheed Martin, including their status as "qualified institutional buyers" as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act"), or (2) outside the United States, to holders of old notes who are non-U.S. persons in compliance with Regulation S under the Securities Act. The exchange offer is scheduled to expire at 12:00 midnight, New York City time, on August 25, 2006, unless extended.

The new notes have not been registered under the Securities Act or any state securities laws. Therefore, the new notes may not be offered or sold in the United States absent registration or an applicable exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws.

This press release is not an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy any security. The exchange offer is being made solely by the Offering Memorandum and related letter of transmittal and only to such persons and in such jurisdictions as is permitted under applicable law.
