Lockheed Martin To Feature Major Programs At The Air Force Association's Orlando Symposium

Lockheed Martin will highlight the company's major programs at the 2008 Air Force Association Orlando Symposium, Feb. 21-22, at the Rosen Shingle Creek Hotel in Orlando, FL. Presentations will focus on the performance and success of Lockheed Martin's Air Mobility programs and Sniper(R) pod.

Schedule

Thursday, Feb. 21

12:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m. Air Mobility Roundtable: Meeting The Challenges
Host: Jim Grant, Vice President - Air Mobility and Special Operations Programs, Business Development Lockheed Martin Aeronautics
Location: St. John's 30 (lunch provided)

Lockheed Martin Aeronautics' air mobility programs address challenges of recapitalization and modernization. C-130J performance continues strong supporting airlift needs around the world, exceeding expectations and meeting global airlift requirements. Join Jim Grant, Vice President - Air Mobility and Special Operations Programs, Business Development for Lockheed Martin Aeronautics in a casual lunchtime roundtable as he shares key insights on airlift recapitalization and modernization, critical milestones, successes, and future opportunities.

3:15 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. Sniper(R) Keeping Pace in Net-Centric Warfare
Presenter: Mark Fischer, Business Development Manager, Sniper Advanced Targeting Pod, Missiles and Fire Control
Location: St. John's 30 (refreshments provided)

The Electro-Optical Targeting System (EOTS) provides essential capabilities for manned and unmanned platforms. Fischer will discuss these capabilities plus recent developments in Sniper, the Air Force's premier targeting system that will enhance the Air Force's precision strike capability.
