Dell Dailey Named President Of PAE

Former Counterterrorism Ambassador, Special Operations Forces Commander Joins Lockheed Martin

Ambassador Dell Dailey has been named President of PAE, a Lockheed Martin Company.

Dailey joins PAE after a distinguished career of military and civilian government service. He most recently served as the Coordinator for Counterterrorism at the State Department, where he managed global American efforts to counter the threat posed by al Queda and other extremist groups.

A West Point graduate, Dailey's military record features key special operations assignments including as Commander of the Joint Special Operations Command from 2000-2003, and Director of the Center for Special Operations, United States Special Operations Command from 2004-2007. In these positions he led American special operations missions in 80 countries, including Iraq and Afghanistan.

"I'm proud and privileged to welcome Dell to the PAE and Lockheed Martin family," said Mike Dignam, President of Lockheed Martin Readiness and Stability Operations. "Dell brings a unique understanding of the challenges of defense, diplomacy and development. Dell also brings unmatched leadership, integrity and customer experience in this emerging area of smart power and expeditionary support. I know he will build on PAE's outstanding record of support to our customers both at home and abroad."

A wholly-owned subsidiary of Lockheed Martin, PAE is a global company specializing in expeditionary construction, logistics, operations and maintenance, and training. The company provides support to the State Department, Department of Defense and a number of international organizations.

Headquartered in Bethesda, Md., Lockheed Martin is a global security company that employs about 140,000 people worldwide and is principally engaged in the research, design, development, manufacture, integration and sustainment of advanced technology systems, products and services. The corporation reported 2008 sales of $42.7 billion.

For additional information, visit our website: http://www.lockheedmartin.com/

First Call Analyst:
FCMN Contact:

SOURCE: Lockheed Martin

Web Site: http://www.lockheedmartin.com/
