Lockheed Martin Releases Media Opportunities Schedule For EAA AirVenture Oshkosh

BETHESDA, Md., July 29, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Lockheed Martin (NYSE: LMT) will highlight recent innovations and achievements accomplished in support of our customers in the aviation and aerospace community during several media briefings and opportunities at the 2014 Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) AirVenture Oshkosh, in Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Aeronautics will focus on its EAA Young Eaglesprogram, which has provided free inductor flights to more than 1.8 million young people since 1992, helps to inspire and motivate the next generation of leaders, aviators and innovators.

Information Systems & Global Solutions will hold demonstrations and briefings forLockheed Martin Flight Services which provides online, phone and radio support to pilots. Presenters will explain how new tools help pilots plan and execute flights more effectively with pre-flight weather briefings, trip filing, flight operations and emergency services.

In an exhibit dedicated to human exploration of deep space, Space Systems Company will represent theOrion spacecraft, which is launching for the first time later this year.

The schedule for briefings and flight demonstrations is listed below:

Tuesday, July 29

2:30 p.m. - 3:30 p.m., Press Headquarters
Press Conference, Going to Mars
Presenters include Larry Price, deputy Orion program manager for Lockheed Martin;Charlie Precourt, vice president and general manager for ATK Space Launch Division; Tom Martin, project manager for Advanced Space & Launch Strategy for Aerojet Rocketdyne; and Myron Fletcher, rocket propulsion engineer for Boeing.

Presenters will provide an overview of the future of space exploration.

Wednesday, July 30

10-11:15 a.m., FAA Safety Center
Flight Services on Steroids
Presenters include Joe Daniele, senior systems engineer and Mike Glasgow, senior systems engineer for Lockheed Martin Flight Services, Information Systems & Global Solutions.

Presenters will provide an overview of Lockheed Martin's newest general aviation flight services capabilities including Electronic Inflight Pilot Reports Submission (PIREP).

1:30 p.m.-2:30 p.m., Seaplane Base
New & Upcoming for Flight Services
Presenters will demonstrate the newest capabilities, such as Electronic Inflight PIREP Submission and give an overview of the next release in the fall.

Friday, August 1

10-10:45 a.m., AOPA Activities Tent
Better Briefings, Safer Flights
Presenters will provide an overview on the new features for preflight weather briefings, inflight services and other online capabilities to help pilots plan safer flights. Session also available Saturday, August 2, 11:30-12:45 p.m., EAA Forum Pavilion 9.

Lockheed Martin updates, booth location and information fromOshkosh will also be shared on the Corporation's Twitter, Facebook pages and Flight Services' Twitter page.

Headquartered in Bethesda, Maryland, Lockheed Martin is a global security and aerospace company that employs approximately 113,000 people worldwide and is principally engaged in the research, design, development, manufacture, integration and sustainment of advanced technology systems, products and services. The Corporation's net sales for 2013 were $45.4 billion.

For additional information, visit our website:
www.lockheedmartin.com

Logo - http://photos.prnewswire.com/prnh/20110419/PH85737LOGO-b

SOURCE Lockheed Martin

---

https://news.lockheedmartin.com/2014-07-29-Lockheed-Martin-Releases-Media-Opportunities-Schedule-For-EAA-AirVenture-Oshkosh